GUEST EDITORIAL

AS I VIEW IT

By John W. Gilbaugh, Professor of Education, San Jose State College

Sex, "pot" and "speed" have become focal points of interest in American high schools. Attitudes on sexual behavior and drug usage have changed from vocal opposition to silent acceptance.

And the schools, indeed, may be contributing to the destruction of the moral underpinnings that have traditionally undergirded public education.

At no other time in the history of American public education have there been more people, at a younger age, informed about sex than during the period in which we live now.

Despite the broadly blossoming sex-education programs introduced into public education during recent years ostensibly to resolve social problems, the latter have been compounded.

Such programs have been justified on several bases, for example, because the home and church allegedly have failed, the schools, therefore, should assume the responsibility of providing "accurate" information to children and youth about sex.

Too, there were the concerns about venereal diseases and illegitimacy. Yet, since the extensive proliferation of public school sex-education programs, venereal disease and illegitimate births have soared to new, all-time highs.

This, with the pill and liberalized abortion laws notwithstanding.

And, furthermore, the illegitimate birth rate is projected to reach one in ten by 1972. By removing normal inhibition traditionally associated with sex, one might be prompted to raise an obvious question: are the schools, by inadvertently removing the qualms of conscience literally promoting sexual promiscuity through sex education programs?

If some sex education programs are ineffectual, so also, are some socially-related programs dealing with drug abuse. Surely, such programs can be no better than the caliber of teachers who staff them.

Take, for example, the case of two teachers reported during the past week in a major California, daily newspaper.

The story stated, "Two high school teachers, including an instructor in an alcohol and drug abuse program, were arrested in their car Thursday night for alleged possession of marijuana during the intermission of a movie about an outer-world trip."

While most teachers are dedicated individuals who subscribe to lofty moral standards, the principle of the "bad apple" in the barrel is most applicable.

Recently, this writer listened to a high school senior student deliver a speech from a prepared text on drug usage by the high school youth in a large, affluent California public high school.

He said, ". . . As I have become more aware of the increasing use of drugs among the kids I know, the thing that really amazes me is their availability. I can go to school and buy drugs with great ease at any time that I so desire, not only outside of the classroom but also in the classroom.

As I think through my schedule of six classes during the day, I can think of only one class which does not contain someone whom I know to have used drugs . . . Kids bring drugs into the classroom and don't care if you know it."

While parents and religious leaders are relinquishing that portion of their traditional domain that deals with sex education, they would be well advised to know something of the background of the teachers who will teach it. And how it will be taught. They should be sure that sex is not integrated into other courses simply to jazz up otherwise boring offerings.

There is also the matter of the basic fundamentals of education. Whatever happened to them? If, for example, a youth achieves only fourth-grade reading level by the time he graduates from high school, as is too often true, is he ready to assume his role as a socially-adjusted, contributing member of society — even with sex education?

It would seem that an alert taxpaying public would demand of its schools a priority system which places first things first.

Parents Can Register Kindergarteners, Starting May 5 In LM-SV School District

Registration of children who will attend kindergarten next fall in the La Mesa-Spring Valley School District will start Monday, May 5, according to Dr. David Pascoe, associate superintendent.

Proof of the child's birthdate must be provided at the time of registration. The California State Education Code requires that a child "shall be four years and nine months of age on or before September 1 of the current school year" in order to enter kindergarten. This means a child must be five years old on or before December 2, 1969, Pascoe said.

A certified copy of a birth record or a statement by the local registrar or a county recorder certifying the date of birth, a baptism certificate duly attested, passport, or when none of the foregoing is obtainable, an affidavit of the parent, guardian or custodian of the minor shall be presented at the time of registration.

Proof of polio inoculation is mandatory, according to the County Health Department, except for those who submit a statement that inoculations are contrary to their beliefs. Required are three doses of Salk or Sabin or two Trivalent polio immunization vaccine.

Measles immunization is also a requirement.

Pascoe also stated that parents will be asked to provide additional health information, including dates of small pox and diptheria inoculation.

Children should be registered at the school which they expect to attend Pascoe said. The district office can be contacted at 469-6171, ext. 33 and 34 for information on attendance boundaries.

Preliminary School Budget In L.G. Tops $3 Million

Trustees got a preliminary look at the preliminary budget of the Lemon Grove Elementary School District Monday night and while they weren't shocked, they did appear deeply concerned.

The preliminary total of budgeted items topped three million dollars for the first time — $3,154,714 to be exact; up nine per cent. Some of this will be lopped off, it was indicated.

Last year's budget was $2,831,232. Of the increase of $323,232 for the 1969-70 budget, about half, or $150,000 is carded for increased wages. Part of the remainder covers increased costs in supplies and services which Business Manager-Assistant Superintendent Paul Reynolds said was up 100% in many cases.

Mrs. Grace Vezzani, chairman of the salary committee for classified employes, submitted a first proposal to the board by which non-teaching employees would be given salary increases of about six per cent and increase those who are in a range of 90 per cent of average to at least 95 per cent.

Mrs. Vezzani is a secretary at San Altos school. The board will study the proposal.

The board will be represented at a "dialog" sponsored by Black and Mexican-Americans prior to a public discussion with Concerned Parents of L.G. School District. The dialog is to be held Tuesday at the home of Franklin Ball, 2544 Pergl st., Lemon Grove.

Always and Everywhere

Let no one imagine that it is a strained and unnatural thing for one to pray. The contrary is much closer to the fact. It is far more unnatural for one not to pray. Prayer is one of the most natural of human instincts. Prayer is man's response to the divine will.

Bell-Ringing Finale Planned

San Diego's 200th Anniversary Will End With Tintinnabulation

When the San Diego 200th Anniversary bells all ring together at the end of the bicentennial celebration December 31, a replica of the Queen Mary's fog bell will resound among them.

A 10-inch bronze replica of the R.M.S. Queen Mary bell was presented to San Diego 200th Anniversary president Charles E. Cordell by Long Beach Mayor Edwin W. Wade and Karen McQuarrie, Miss Welcome to Long Beach, at 200th headquarters, April 14.

Long Beach is among 200 leading United States cities invited by San Diego to send a bell for the 200th celebration.

The original Queen Mary fog bell hangs in front of the wheel house on the bridge of the historic luxury liner which is undergoing conversion into a Museum of the Sea and hotel-convention center in Long Beach harbor.

The bell, used throughout the ship's 31 years at sea, was made by M. W. Swinburner and Sons, Ltd. of Wallsend-on-Tyne, Northlumberland, England, and presented to the ship by Lloyds Register, London.

The replica was made especially for the San Diego 200th by Julio Azpeitia Sr. owner of Bay City Foundry in Wilmington.

Azpeitia, bell-maker for more than 60 years, produces bells for Navy, Coast Guard and merchant vessels.

"Despite all the modern electronic devices," Azpeitia says, "there is still no sound that can pierce the fog as effectively as a fog bell."

QUEEN MARY is clearly inscribed on the fog bell and an accompaning plaque reads: "Replica of Fog Bell, Aboard Luxury Liner Queen Mary, Presented by City of Long Beach, Home of the Queen, to City of San Diego, In Honor of San Diego's 200th Anniversary."

The fog bell is one of three bells aboard the Queen Mary, but the 81,000-ton ship really sounds off via three steam whistles, each weighing more than a ton, which can be heard for about 15 miles.

The Long Beach bell is the 60th received by the 200th Anniversary as part of the Ringing of the Bells project for 1969.

"This is the first fog bell we have received," Cordell said, "and it is also the first bell we have received from royalty."

The Long Beach bell will be mounted at the end of the celebration in a special bell tower. According to an official of the 200th, bells and tower will be part of a 200th museum which will be built to hold remembrances from San Diego's year-long anniversary celebration.

Hardison's Telespanish

by James Hardison

"Arte y Cultura de Mexico" should be the title of the exhibition now showing in the Museum of Man. There is a wide collection of "arte" and a large number of works representing "la cultura." On the main floor one may see handmade articles from most of the Mexican states; "campanas de barro de Oaxaca" (clay bells from Oaxaca), "vestidos de Yucatan" (dresses from Yucatan) and "azulejos de Puebla" (glazed tile from Puebla).

The exhizition of "Arte de Diego Rivera" is worth the price of admission. As one enters the display room, a sense of emotion, tragedy, and bold colors spring from the canvasses and tell a story of Mexico's past and much about the artist life. The personal effects, "un saco azul" (a blue jacket), and a table filled with paint brushes and small jars of oil paints used by the artist and left idle in the center of the room give one the impression that the great master of the oils will shortly return to his work station.

Numerous paintings of sunsets on small canvasses depict the multi-color combinations of the many afternoons seen by the artist during his last few years in the city of Acapulco. "Fantastico" is the best description for the show. There is a charming young hostess, Senora Ocampo, who will answer your questions about the show in Spanish or English. Her pretty smile represents an international language of "armistad" (friendship). Some conversation that may help you to talk with her in Spanish may be found in the practice phrases below. You can learn to say them with the help of the recorded voice you hear when you dial 276-2762.

IMPORTANT PHRASES

Wolford, of 6813 Amber pl., Lemon Grove is the Communications Chief of the Marine Corps Reserve's 4th Tank Battalion in San Diego — and he doesn't waste words. But he does have patience and it paid off for the 16-year veteran of active duty.

He was selected in 1967 for promotion to master sergeant and he applied last last year for warrant officer.

Master Sgt. Wolord received official notice April 19, of his selection for warrant officer, and on the next day pinned on his master sergeant stripes. He expects to receive his warrant officer bars in three to four months.

He was awarded the Bronze Star with Combat V for helping to prevent the Viet Cong from destroying a vital bridge over the Song Cau Do River.

An acid-type fuse would detonate the explosives with the receding tide, he said, so there wasn't time to summon demolitions experts.

Wolford and four volunteers, although untrained for such work, removed booby traps and the explosives.

"They made a big thing about it in Vietnam," he said. "But I was just doing my job."

Master Sgt. Wolford received wears two Purple Heart Medals for service during the Korean Conflict. He lives with his wife, Esther, and children, Bruce, 11; Dale, 8, and Dawn, 7, in Lemon Grove, and is employed as an agent for Prudential Insurance Co.

Social Security News

This newspaper presents this question and answer column about the Social Security program as a public service to our readers. The questions are those most frenquently asked about Social Security. The answers are provided by Sumio Oto, El Cajon Social Security District Manager.

Q. I am receiving Social Security benefits. I earned over $1680 in 1968. Do I have to notify Social Security?

A. Yes. Anyone receiving Social Security who earned over $1680 in 1968 must file a report of his earnings by April 15, 1969. There are two exceptions to this. A person receiving disability benefits and a person who was over 72 in all months of 1968 do not have to file this report.

Q. Where may I get more 1490 forms to file my Medicare claims? My doctor only gives me one at a time.

A. Your Social Security office has forms on hand at all offices. They will also help you fill them out if you need assistance.

O. I will be 62 in a couple of months. I can't get a birth certificate, but I have some documents showing my age, and am trying to get more. Must I wait until I have received all of these records before I apply for benefits?

A. No. You should apply now. The people at your social security office will tell you if you have enough evidence of your age. They will also assist you in obtaining additional evidence, if it is needed.

Q. During the first two months of this year my doctor treated me for an ear infection. His total bill was $65. When should I send in my Medicare claim?

A. You should file your claim as soon as your doctor bills exceed $50. Do not wait to accumulate more bills. Your insurance carrier will pay 80 per cent of your medical expenses above the first $50.

If you have further questions regarding the Social Security Law, contact or write the Social Security Office, 570 North Second st., El Cajon, Calif. 92021. The office is open from 8:30 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday and until 7:30 p.m. on Wednesdays. The telephone number is 442-0851.

Two Premieres Will Highlight SD Symphony Performances

Two premiers — one a world premiere and the other a North American premiere — will be given May 8 and 9 when the San Diego Symphony Orchestra performs in Civic Theatre.

Zoltan Rozsnyai, music director and conductor of the San Diego Symphony, will conduct the 8:30 p.m. concerts.

The orchestra will present the world premiere of Morton Gould's Troubador Music for Four Guitars and Orchestra and the North American premiere of Cristobal Halffter's Sequences for Orchestra.

Other selections on the program will include Symphony No. 88 by Haydn, Panambi Suite by Ginastera and La Procession del Rocio by Turina.

To be featured in the Gould composition, which was commissioned by the San Diego Symphony Orchestra Association, will be the Spanish guitar quartet, The Romeros.

Emphasizing San Diego's Spanish heritage, the concerts will be in special commemoration of the City's 200th Anniversary Celebration. They will be recorded by the Voice of America for later rebroadcast over Radio Madrid.

Gould, who will be attending the San Diego premiere performances of his latest musical work is, at 55, considered one of America's most respected contemporary composers.

American Freeway Patrol Has Aided 6000 Motorists

Nearly 6,000 people stranded on San Diego County freeways have been assisted by the American Freeway Patrol since its inception five months ago, according to Daniel B. Grady, general manager.

The patrol, sponsored by the American Oil Co., began official operation Nov. 11, and added it traffic reporting service on Nov. 25, 1968.

The types of assistance are recorded at the patrol's central communications center in Mission Valley Center-West. Automobiles which had run out of gasoline constituted the most frequent type of breakdown with 1,957 assists.

The number two freeway problem concerned flat tires or blow-outs. Assists in this area totaled 1,206 for five months of operation.

Freeway patrolmen also assisted 694 cars with battery problems, placed telephone calls for 530 persons, provided water for 484 vehicles and called a tow truck for 304 cars.

Patrolmen also assisted law enforcement officers by helping route traffic around traffic tie-ups and dropping flares for persons with help on the way.

Each of the five patrol trucks is equipped with a two-way radio which enables patrolmen to place calls to automobile clubs, friends or relatives for assistance. They can also call businesses and homes to report that the party was stranded but would be at his destination soon.

The reports, an auxiliary to the freeway assistance, are carried on radio stations KOGO, KCBQ, KSDO, KSON and KITT-TV seven times during the weekday hours of 6:55 and 8:25 a.m. and seven times between 4:10 and 5:40 p.m.

The youngsters, pupils at Golden Avenue School, visited the Coast Guard cutter Friendship Bell. Later, they ate sack lunches on the grounds near the cutter.

After they rode the ferryboat 'San Diego' they agreed it would be sad when the ferry service is discontinued.

They also visited the Spanish ship JUAN SEBASTIAN befor returning home.

Rummage Sale Is Next Phase Of Program In Ambitious 'Operation Summertime'

By LINDA SULLINS

Helix High School will join the growing number of San Diego agencies dedicating themselves to the betterment of San Diego underprivileged children.

The Commission Class of Helix High has created and organized an extensive school-wide and community-wide fund raising drive in behalf of these children. The fund-raising drive is designed to raise an estimated $2,000 for the Operation Summertime Program.

Operation Summertime, this year's Helix annual charity drive, is being held April 25 through May 9.

A dance, sponsored by the Helix Commission Class, kicked off the drive April 25 in the Helix Gymnasium. Music was provided by White Lightening.

Students will distribute hand bills throughout the community publicizing the drive and the rummage sale.

A rummage sale is scheduled May 3 and 4. The time and place of the sale has not been decided.

A spirit sale will enhance the spirit of Operation Summertime. Souvenirs may be purchased during the drive.

Among the souvenirs to be sold are student-made leather rings, sunshine stickers and colorful paper flowers. The rings and stickers are 25 cents each and the flowers 50 cents.

"The entire drive is a valuable contribution to our community," Ken Regas, drive chairman, said.

A movie describing the problems of youth opportunity Operation Summertime aides will be available to all teachers wishing to show it to their classes.

A series of slides showing Operation Summertime in action may be shown to the student council.

An assembly has been discussed but there has beeen no definite action.

Each class, Freshman through Senior, will compete to determine which class donates the greatest amount of money and rummage towards the drive.

People wishing to contribute to Operation Summertime may send their contribution to Operation Summertime in care of Helix High School.

The Mayor's Council on Youth Opportunity was formed in conjunction with Operation Summertime. The council establishes programs in San Diego that make jobs and cultural opportunities possible for deprived youth in San Diego.

Participiating in this program, denoted Operation Summertime, are YMCA, the 11th Naval District, the San Diego Police Dept., Brown Berets and other civic action groups in San Diego. Helix High School is the only school in the San Diego area to participate in this program in any way.

Among the Major's Council committies and projects to receive aid are education, teenposts, champership, backyard swim and work experience.

The educational division will provide art, drama, and jazz workshops for the culturally inclined. A special production workshop of 40 students will present a television show to be broadcast locally. Tutoring will also be available for all students.

A teenpost program will create places of recreation and counseling for high school age youth. Teenposts have already been established in Otay, Linda Vista, San Ysidro, San Diego, and the Logan Youth Center.

The campership program is the specific project the Helix funds will support. Current programming includes training 60 young men and women for positions as camp counselors. The participating camps, Marston, Boy Scout , Girl Scout, and the Jewish Community, provide children perhaps their only camping opportunity.

A backyard swim program is designed to teach children the fundamentals of water safety. "Last year some 3,000 persons participated. This year enrollment is estimated at 9,000," Jim Sable, public relations chairman, said.

Some 80 young men, who might otherwise be in jail, work with volunteer carpenters and painters in refurbishing area neighborhoods.

All of these projects give deprived San Diego children the opportunity to better themselves in a growing community.

Lemon Grove Driver Cops Main Event At Cajon Speedway

Carl Adams of Lemon Grove won the main event in the super stock division at Cajon Speedway, El Cajon, Saturday night before a record sell-out crowd of more than 6,000 fans.

Adams crossed the finish line with a time of 9 minutes-43:76 seconds, just ahead of Jim Hitt, another Lemon Grove resident. Both Adams and Hitt provided the fans with a display of top notch racing.

In the first lap of the main event George Esau of San Diego moved from a starting third position to take the lead. He maintained that position into the sixth round.

Adams, a native of El Cajon and a 1960 graduate of Grossmont High School said that the victory was an unexpected one for him. He said, "My crew of five men and I worked around the clock Friday night to get the car ready.

"We were still working on the 1955 Chevy with it's 302 cubic engine until 5:30 p.m. Saturday afternoon. When we hauled the car from my shop at 3590 Olive st., things were in pretty good order.

"It wasn't until near the finish of the main event that I decided that I wouldn't take a second place. I went after the entire bag of beans and made my move and came out on the top," he concluded.

Hitt took a first place in the trophy dash, a three lap race. Hitt also won one of the eight lap heats.

Racing will get underway again this Saturday night. Qualifications will begin at 6:30 p.m. Trophy dash action will begin at 8 p.m.

Padres Cut Cost On Kids' Tickets

SAN DIEGO — The San Diego Padres announced two important changes in ticket policies.

Effective immediately, the Padres will admit all children, 12 years and under, to the general admission section for 50 cents. The 50-cent price for youngsters will be in effect for all home games.

As is the case with regular general admissions, the children's tickets will be on sale only on the day of each game.

The Padres also announced that beginning at once, telephone reservations will be taken for all Padre home games. Box and reserved seat tickets may be ordered by phone by calling the Padre ticket office at 283-4494.

All telephone reservations will be held until one hour prior to game time.

The children's price program will be in addition to those already in effect including servicemen's general admission 50-cent tickets for all games and special 50-cent general admissions on Ladies Night every Wednesday, and Senior Citizens Day every Sunday.

Junior World Golf Championships Here To Be International

SAN DIEGO—Players from 15 nations are expected to compete here in the second annual Junior World Golf Championships, Aug. 25-29, according to John W. Brown, general chairman.

Hailed as an immediate success, the first Junior World, held last August, drew a surprising 480 entries from 22 states and seven nations.

"We have every evidence that at least 15 countries will be represented this year, and at least 35 states," said Brown who is also president of the San Diego County Junior Golf Association, originator of the tournament.

This year the junior association has a new partner in sponsorship, the prestigious People-to-People Sports Committee, whose honorary chairman is President Nixon, and whose emeritus chairman was the late General Eisenhower. The Sports Committee is headquartered in New York.

Brown said England, Lebanon, Israel, Canada, Rhodesia, Union of South Africa, Mexico, Ceylon, Portugal, New Zealand and Japan are among nations expected to send players here.

The Junior World is open to boys and girls in four age groups — 10-and-under, 11-12, 13-14, and 15-17.

Although the two lower age groups have no qualifying requirements, the two upper divisions do. Players in these groups must be able to average these scores on regulation 18-hole courses: 15-17 — boys 82 strokes, girls 95; 13-14 — boys 88, girls 105.

Entry fees are $5 for 10-and-under, and $10 for 13-14 and 15-17. Deadline for entries is August 4.

Against the Eagles, the Monarchs could collect just two hits in absorbing a 3-1 loss.

Jesse Bowers walked two in the ninth inning with the bases loaded to take the loss. Bowers walked six, gave up four hits, and struck out 12 in the game.

Currently in fifth place, the Monarchs will play the Helix Highlanders this Friday on the Monarch diamond.

The Monarch swimmers dropped two meets last week to the Mt. Miguel Matadors and Granite Hills Eagles.

The Monarchs are 2-3 in league play and will face the El Cajon Braves tomorrow.

Monarch netmen have all but been eliminated from a CIF berth as they lost to Mt. Miguel and Helix last week.

Colling Stillwagen went undefeated against Helix but no other singles player picked up a win against the Highlanders.

The Monarchs, 5-3, will travel to El Capitan to battle the Vaqueros this afternoon.

The Monarch harriers are still looking for their first win in league battle as they lost last Friday to El Cajon, 79-57, for their fifth straight loss.

Pat Foley took both the discus and shot put for the Monarchs as Monte Vista swept the two-mile run with Joe Mears placing first.

Monte Vista's baseball squad broke a five-game losing skein by nipping the Helix Highlanders, 4-3, on Doug Miller's three-run homer.

Miller is leading the league in home runs with five and is currently hitting .322. Monarch Roger Sommers is batting .386 and is tied for the league lead in doubles with four.

Monarch Collin Stillwagen surprised Foothiller Ron Ried by beating the singles ace last week. It was Ried's first loss in 32 sets this year.

Rods, Reels Free At Lake Murray

An abundance of rods and reels and nearly everything needed for fishing is available free to youth groups wishing to take supervised trips to fish at Lake Murray, the San Diego Recreation Department has announced. Terminal tackle and bait must be furnished by the youth groups.

Recent donations of fishing tackle by the Diawa and Garcia Corporations have made it possible to furnish hundreds of youngsters with all their fishing needs, according to Orville Ball, Lakes Recreation Superintendent for the Department.

Organized groups are urged to contact Ball to make arrangements for fishing at Lake Murray and using the equipment. Murray features the famous Kid's Pond used exclusively by boys and girls and a wealth of regularly-planted trout and other fishes.

The Youth Fishing program was instigated last year by the Department in an effort to make fishing experience available to all children in the San Diego area.

Character-building citizenship training and physical fitness programs of the United Crusade supported Boy Scouts and will attract nearly 30,000 boys in San Diego County from 8 to 18 years.

How To Get Your News Into Print More Often

This paper willingly accepts material from Lemon Grove and Spring Valley residents who take the time to inform us of the news they know and we don't.

We'd like to mention three points which will help you readers get your news published more often, and incidentally allow your news editor to improve his efforts to process OUR news of local interest.

1.) Double spaced, typewritten copy aids readability. Legibility is what's most important if the copy can't be typed. We try hard to decipher various handwritten material, but sometimes it seems like we're reading Arabic.

2.) If copy comes to this office (7834 Lester ave., Lemon Grove) one or two weeks before planned events, it has a better chance to be printed than if it comes in the Monday or Tuesday before our Thursday publication day.

3.) Regular club, church and sports news is best handled and processed if received by Friday of week preceding publication.

Dear Editor:

I wish to express my most sincere appreciation for your newspapers reporting of the campaign appearances on behalf of my recent candidacies for the Grossmont High School and College Boards.

Although not successful I shall offer my help to the duly elected board and perhaps seek office when the next election takes place two years hence.

Thank you for your help.

Lemon Grove Woman Crowned Queen of "Peelers" As She Drops 95 Pounds Via TOPS

Mrs. Myrtle Snead, a Lemon Grove mother who lost 95½ pounds within the past year was recently crowned reigning monarch of all TOPS (Take Pounds Sensibly) clubs in San Diego and Imperial Counties.

Her local chapter in Lemon Grove is called The Lemon Peelers and there are 84 other local chapters in the two counties now under her direction.

In coronation ceremonies, Mrs. Snead received a trophy and red cape while 2,000 fellow TOPS members assembled in San Diego's Convention Hall sang "Hail to the Queen" along with other songs appropriately chosen for the occasion, such as "Show Me the Way to Lose Weight," and "Grow Little Fat Girl."

Mrs. Snead, as a full-time worker for Goodwill Industries of San Diego County, became very aware of the tremendous problems overcome by the many handicapped persons receiving training at the Goodwill Industries Center in San Diego. It was this kind of spirit, observed every day in these Goodwill trainees, that told Myrtle Snead that her problem of excessive weight could be overcome.

Here is her story:

"At the age of 12 I was aware of my weight problem. From that time until I was married my weight fluctuated up and down like a yo-yo. With crash diets and then compulsive eating, I could never keep my weight stable. The doctor informed me that I could die if I didn't lose weight. I solved that by not seeing the doctor again.

"Then I tried to solve my problem with a six months gym course, but unfortunately, the gym was right across the street from the malt shop.

"The years passed and my weight went up to 235 lbs. Then a friend invited me to a meeting of the TOPS Lemon Peeler Chapter. I was so inspired that I promised myself when I joined on February 2, 1968, that I would reach my goal of a 95 pound weight loss by Christmas.

"With the help of fellow members and encouragement from the variety of contests I managed to lose weight each week.

"It was truly a Merry Christmas for me when I reached a weight of 140 pounds. On February 5, 1969, I became a full-fledged KOPS (Keep Off Pounds Sensibly).

"It is a wonderful feeling to look and feel like a human being again!"

"SHOW ME THE WAY TO LOSE WELGHT" was theme of Mrs. Snead as a 235-pound, less-than-happy Goodwill Industries worker who lives in Lemon Grove.
